Dear Dr. Hurtado,

J. S. Haldane Centenary 1961

I am sorry for the delay in replying to your letter of April 22. The various formalities connected with the transfer of the money have taken rather longer than we expected, but by the time you get this letter you should have already received the sum of £350. We would be glad if you would let us know if you do not hear from the bank in Lima within the next few days. I heard this morning that the money has been transferred, but it is not known in Oxford to which bank.

Yours sincerely,

D. J. C. Cunningham
